

SEA ISLAND'S BROADFIELD SPORTING CLUB ADDS HUNTING TO ITS ROSTER OF WORLD-CLASS OUTDOOR ACTIVITIES

Broadfield Offers an Unparalleled Range of Activities Including Plantation-Style Quail Hunting, Continental Pheasant Shoots, Freshwater Fishing, Falconry and more

Sea Island, Georgia Sea Island, the Forbes Five-Star resort off the southeastern coast of Georgia, includes the offering of diverse activities with Broadfield Sporting Club and Lodge. The 5,800-acre property, once part of one of the South's earliest hunting clubs, is a truly unique sporting club destination offering a wide array of amenities including a rifle and pistol range, freshwater fishing, extensive hunting grounds and a multitude of game including quail, deer, wild turkeys, and doves.

Broadfield's main attraction is the property's hunting grounds as previous strict game management practices have allowed for some of the largest deer in coastal Georgia and an array of wild turkey to flourish. The sporting club destination also offers plantation-style quail hunting with top-notch guides and dogs, action-packed continental pheasant shoots and traditional southern barrel melting dove shoots. Novices and professionals alike can hone their skills on the sporting clays course, 5-Stand, and 500-yard rifle range, or practice marksmanship skills on the pistol range. Guests will also have the rare opportunity to experience one-of-a-kind falconry with some of the nation's top falconers. Seasonally, the half-day Broadfield Experience includes a tour, dog training and falconry demonstrations, shooting lessons and lunch.

Guests can choose to enjoy southern-style meals prepared by the Broadfield chef, complete with honey from one of the on-site beehives and smoked fresh meat and fish. Up to 18 overnight guests may choose to stay in the Main Lodge, Pool House, or Guest Cabins.

Broadfield is also the ideal destination for large events up to 100 guests or more. The property is available to host a variety of southern-style feasts such as oyster roasts, pig pickin's and low country boils. For the outdoor savvy group, the sporting club can accommodate round robin activities such as quail hunting, sporting clay shooting, freshwater fishing, falconry and rifle/pistol shooting as well as a continental pheasant shoot for up to 22 guests. Concert space is also available on one of the two large lawn areas within the property.

Sea Island's sporting club can be accessed in four ways, either as a Broadfield member or guest, a Sea Island member, or as a guest of Sea Island. Broadfield membership provides access to the hunting grounds, freshwater fishing, unlimited use of the rifle and pistol range, two complimentary nights at the elegant, yet rustic Lodge Compound and admission to annual member events. Guests booked at the resort will also have access to activities such as pheasant and quail hunting, sporting clay shooting, freshwater fishing, falconry and use of the rifle and pistol range. Activities vary in price and are available by reservation by calling Broadfield at 912-510-0030.
