

October 26, 2015

The 40 Most Romantic Fall Getaways You Should Add to Your Travel List

With a recent survey revealing that more than half of Americans spend their vacation days dealing with personal obligations rather than actually, you know, vacationing with their spouse, we figured it was time to give you two a little nudge. Choose your favorite destination, pack a bag, and reignite the romance. You're welcome.

By Samantha Lefave

SEA ISLAND, GEORGIA

If you're looking for a vacation straight out of a Southern movie, you won't be disappointed in The Cloister. Not only will you get five miles of private beaches to the east—and gorgeous salt marshes to the west—but you'll also get pampered at the Forbes Five-Star Spa (be sure to book a couples treatment in the "Together Suite," then dip into the post-treatment relaxation tub for two). Rent a few bicycles during your trip and explore the secluded gardens...and then maybe take a few Instagram shots kissing under the oak trees draped with Spanish moss.

SEA ISLAND