

November 13, 2015

7 Honeymoon-Worthy Islands That Don't Require a Passport

There's something crazy romantic—and relaxing—about an island honeymoon. It's just so easy to unwind from all of the wedding-planning stress when you're surrounded by water, its calming waves, and your new husband. But if you don't have the time or the money to fly halfway across the world to the beaches of Thailand or beyond, there are plenty of amazing honeymoon (or mini-moon) destinations much closer to home—no passport required. (Disclaimer: For the purposes of this list, we're leaving out Hawaii.) Here are a few of our favorites.

SEA ISLAND, GEORGIA

For a destination that exudes Southern charm, head to this private island, which— together with Jekyll Island, St. Simons Island, and Little St. Simons Island—makes up Georgia's Golden Isles. At the Mediterranean-style Cloister, splurge on a one-bedroom villa; you'll get direct beach access, an oversized balcony, and a deep tub for post-swimming soaks. You can spend your days golfing, playing tennis, horseback riding, kayaking, or going on salt marsh tours.