

Habitat for Humanity and Sea Island

As told by Blake Kroll, Executive Assistant

On May 13th, Sea Island participated in helping build homes in collaboration with Habitat for Humanity of Glynn County Georgia. "Sea Island offers our team members eight paid hours, per quarter, for volunteering at qualifying non-profit organizations," Kroll states. "Working with organizations such as Habitat for Humanity exhibits how each of us can make a difference in our community."

The current Habitat for Humanity project, Century Place, is a new neighborhood in Brunswick that will have fifteen homes, ranging in size from 1,200 to 1,600 square feet. It will also be the build site for the 100th Habitat for Humanity home in Glynn County, hence the name Century Place. Sea Island assisted with the first five homes in the neighborhood and donated non-perishable items for the crew including water, sports drinks, and granola bars. "It is easy to volunteer and people with any skill level can join in, even beginners." states Blake.

"Our team installed siding, painted, and helped with site clean-up. Habitat for Humanity has an on-site construction leader there with you the entire time and they oversee all aspects of the building project."

The first five homes recently passed framing inspections and rough-in inspections are scheduled in the near future. The initial wave of homes are scheduled for completion by the end of 2023, and the remaining ones by the end of 2025 - Sea Island plans to continue participating in this project to help see it through to the finish line.

"I am honored to work for a company that values and encourages volunteerism the way Sea Island does" Kroll says. If you wish to join a company that values its community, we hope you consider a career at Sea Island.
